BELLIGERENTS WARNED

Our Citizens Must Not Aid the Cuban Insurgents.

THE PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION.

Speedy Justice Will Overtake All Who Violate the Laws by Aiding Those in Rebellion Against a Friendly Foreign

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Secretary Olney is thoroughly determined that the United States government shall do all in its power and all the international law requires to prevent the violation of the United States territory by persons who undertake to make it a base of hostile operations against Spain, with which power it is at peace. Complaints have reached the department of state through the Spanish minister that men are being recruited on American soil, and that armed expeditions are leaving our shores for the purpose of attacking the Spanish forces in Cuba. Whenever the necessary evidence can be procured these infractions of the law of the United States are to be severely punished, for the secretary of state will leave no just ground for complaint that the United States has failed in its obligations to other nations. Meanwhile, however, it has been deemed proper to give formal warning to misguided people of what they may expect, so yesterday atternoon the following proclamation was issued from the state department by the president:

"Whereas, the Loand of Cuba is now the seat of serious civil disturbances, accompanied by armed resistance to the authority of the established government of Spain, a power with which the United States are and desire to remain on terms of peace and amity; and, "Whereas, the laws of the United States prohibit their citizens, as well as all others being within and subject to their jurisdiction, from taking part in such disturbances adversely to such established government by accepting or exercising commissions for warlike service against it, by enlistment, or procuring others to enlist for such service, by fitting out armed or procuring to be fitted out armed ships of war for such service, by augmenting the force of any ship of war engaged in such service and arriving in a port of the United States, and by setting on foot or providing or preparing the means for military enterprises to be carried on from the United States against the territory of such

"Now, therefore, in recognition of the laws aforesaid and in discharge of the obligations of the United States towards a friendly power and as a measure of precaution and to the end that entirens of the United States and all others within its jurisdiction may be deterred from subjecting themselves to legal forfeitures and penalties I. Grover Cieveland, president of the United States of America, do hereby admonish all such citizens and other persons to abstain from every violation of the laws herein before referred to, and do hereby warn them that all violations of such laws will be rigorously prosecuted; and I do hereby enjoin upon all officers of the United States charged with the exe cution of said laws the utmost diligence in preventing violations thereof and in bringing to trial and panishment any offenders against the same."

The issuance of the president's proclamation gave rise to considerable discussion as to whether it does not practically amount to a recognition of the rebels as belligerents. Such an interpretation of the proclamation, however, is not correct, according to the opinions of several well known public men. Senator Morgan, of Alabama, who is a recognized authority on international law, when isked about

"No recognition of the rights of beligerency are accorded by the proclamation, but just the reverse is the case. There would have been no necessity for such action if the insurgents were belligerents. for then the citizins of the United States would have the right to sell them munitions of war if they could escape the blockade of the Spanish fleets. It is simply carrying out the law on the subject '

Senator Call, of Florida, said the proclamation was rather stronger than he liked. "I am," he said, "in favor of the independence of Cuba, for it is a foregone conclusion that the island will throw off the Spanish yoke. In my judgment it is a wild idea to suppose that this government can support the tottering government of Spain over Cuba, or that it ought

After the Filibusterers.

NEW YORK, June 13 -The cruiser Raleigh started today for Key West, where she is to assist the revenue cutters in preventing the departure of Cuban filibustering expeditions from that place, and from other points in the United States. It is expected that she will make the trip in about three days and a half.

Charges Against the Colima's Officers. SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—The official investigation into the causes that led to the wreck of the steamer Colima, off Manzanillo, Mexico, on May 27, was resumed before United States Inspectors Talbot and Phillips. TO CONTINUE THE PROBE.

New Jersey Investigators Have Not Yu Finished Their Work.

TRENTON, June 13 .- The senate yester day passed over the governor's veto thi following bills: Giving the mayor of New ark power to appoint members of common council and of the board of education in cases of vacancy; giving the mayor of New Brunswick power to vote in council it cases of tie, intended to break an existing tie; reducing the fees of the clerks of the supreme court and court of chancery; repealing the present act giving the gover northirty days after adjournment of the legislature to consider bills. The house concurred in the first two vitoes.

The governor sent in another veto mes sage, the bill affected being that which requires that applications for pardon must be made thirty days before being acted upon by the pardon board. The chief executive thinks the senate has no right to legislate for a co-ordinate branch of the state government.

It is probable that the house and senarwill adjourn sine die this evening. The Republican senators held a conference yes terday afternoon on the question of continuing the senate investigating committee, at which it was decided that the reso lution under which the committee came into existence also gives sufficient author ity for its continuance. The resolution will not be resoluted, and the committee will resume its work after the legislature has adjourned.

Washington, June 13.-A. A. Rudder who served in a Tennessee regiment, was pensioned in 1889 at $8 per month, was granted an increase in 1891 to $10 per month. The according then discovered and the payment reduced to $10, while a further amount of $10 per month will be retained until the amount overdrawn is refunded.

THE SILVER LEADERS PRESENT

The Wild Welcome to Congressman Sibley Who Is Regarded as the Probable Nominee of the Silverites in 1896-Senator Turpie as Permanent Chuirman.

MEMPHIS, June 13.-Friends of silver representing twenty states of the south and west, began a two days' convention it this city yesterday. On the stage, besides the officers of the Central Bimetallic League of Memphis under whose auspices the gathering was beld, were, with very few exceptions, al. the leading advocates of the free coinage of silver in the United States. They in cluded Senators Bate and Harris of Ten nessee, Jones and Barry of Arkansas George and Walthall of Mississippi, Mar ion Butler of North Carolina, Scnatól

Politically the most significant incident of yesterday's proceedings was the clear and emphatic statement of Senator Harris, of Tennessee, who it has been already clearly demonstrated is the controlling spirit in the management of the convention as to the object of the gathering and the single subject to which it is expected to confine its deliberation. The strength of the men who are for silver first, last and all the time, and whose purpose is to advance the candidacy of Congressman Sibley, of Pennsylvania, for the presidency, has been frequently manifested, is formidable and the result of the encounter between the conservative and radical silver men is watched with great interest.

At the evening session Senator William M. Stewart, of Nevada, presided and introduced ex-Congressman Joseph C. Sibley, of Pennsylvania. Mr. Sibley was greeted with thunders of applause, and in a two hours' speech aroused his audience to a high pitch of enthusiasm. He made an earnest appeal for independent political action in 1896. His auditors were evidently with him, for every attack upon Secretary Carlisle, the president or Senator Sherman was greeted with a noisy demonstration. "We must win this fight in 1896," said Mr. Sibley. "or we lose it beyond the lifetime of my generation or the one that follows it."

A MURDERED STUDENT.

Great Excitement at Princetor Over the Death of Young Ohl.

THE EODY TAKEN TO HIS HOME

The Preliminary Hearing to Take Place of Saturday, and Several Students Who Wib nessed the Shooting Will Remain to Aid in Bringing the Murderer to Justice.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 13 .- Frederick P. Ohl, the young student who was shot by the negro Collins on Saturday night died yesterday of peritonitis. His father and mother were up all night with him.

There are many stories affoat regarding the murder, but from the general evidence and from young Ohl's excellent character it would seem that John Collins, the negre who shot the two students, most certainly has been the aggressor. The dispatched stated that the shooting was the result of a row between Students Cochran and Ohi and the negro. The fray took place in an alley in front of the side entrance to An derson's hotel. Collins is a laborer, 24 years old. He had had words with the stu dents, and, in a fit of rage, drew a revolver and fired first at Ohl, then at Cochran, and again at Ohl. All the shots took effect The bullet fired at Cochran struck him in the mouth. Both of Ohl's wounds were it the stomach. The students dropped to the sidewalk and were quickly removed to the College hospital and Collins was arrested. Stephen Downs, also colored, was lodged in the county jail at the same time. He was in company with Collins immediately before the shooting took place.

The version of the affair told by the students is that as Ohl and Cochran, with some other students, were walking down Witherspoon street a little before it o'clock Collins and Downs approached them from an opposite direction, and Collins used insulting language, directing if toward the students. The latter rejoined sharply, and there was considerable profanity. A few minutes later Cochran and Ohl met Collins in the alley. Downs was a few feet away. Collins stood in the door of the hotel bar and reviled the students and dared them to enter. They undertook to do so, when the negro whipped out his weapon and began firing. Collins declares that he was first abused and then assailed by the students, and that he fired in order to frighten them, and not intending to kill them. According to the statement of Downs, however, Collins was the first to use threatening lan-guage, and that the students then followed them and started the fight.

The remains of young Ohl were ten derly lifted into the express train at 6:40 last night by his classmates. Mr. Ohl, the father of the unfortunate student, received the sympathy of the faculty and students, and before leaving personally thanked all who had given him their assistance and sympathy. Two of Ohl's fellow students accompany the body to New Castle, Pa.

County Physician Cantwell, who performed the post mortem examination, reported that Ohl met his death from peritonitis resulting from the wound in the stomach. The preliminary hearing in the case will be held on Saturday. The coroner has empaneled his jury from the most public spirited citizens In town. Several students who were witnesses of the shooting have been subpænsed, and will not leave for their homes until they have done all in their power to bring the murderer to instice.

Cochran's temperature is a trifle higher, and he complains of tenderness in his mouth. Dr. Denton stated that the bullet had not been found, and that there still exists a possibility of its causing blood poisoning, in which case Cochran's recovery would be doubtful. At present, however, he apprehends no such calamity.

Defaulter Taylor's Return to Justice.

He has been in Cuba, Mexico, British Guinea, Jamaica and Brazil since leaving the United States, but he is now in a northern clime.

The United States laws, he said, made it practically impossible for Canadians to get contracts in the states.

A Drummer's Unique Story of the Way It

Was Taken. Two drummers walked up to the counter of one of the hotels last evening.

The night clerk stood behind it, monarch of all that he didn't survey. The legs of the bellboys dangled from a row of chairs in front of the desk. To the side a reporter, with half shut eyes, saw scoops in the ceiling and heard them in the elevator. "Say, Pere, scratch out that bath item from my bill, will you?" said one of the drummers to the clerk. The speaker was a dapper little fellow, with a colossal gift of gab. "Couldn't you stand the mud bath?" asked the strapping big drummer with the shaking cheeks. "No," was the disgruntled reply. "Muddy Mississippi river water is the healthfulest thing in the world to bathe in," said the night clerk, mounting his stool, which stood near the cashier's desk. "Pshaw!" exclaimed the little drammer. "The way I do," said the big traveling man, "is to let the water stand in the tub for several Lours. The mud settles in the bottom, and the water is clear. Then I bathe, but am careful not to create a stir." "You ain't in it with my partner."

"Why, my partner gets into the muddy water. It's so muddy you can sharpen a knife on it."

"Well, my partner, he gets into the water, mud and all, and takes a bath any-

"He does, eh?" And how does he come out?

"Well, my partner," I said, "gets into the mud and water and takes a bath." "It don't do him any good," said the bigger drummer.

"Why, it takes two hours to dust him

TO DEFEAT JUSTICE.

Extraordinary Proceedings In a Missouri Murder Case.

Judge Gantt of the supreme court of Missouri has issued a writ of prohibition to restrain Judge Wear of the Butler county circuit court and Special Judge G. A. Standard from interfering with the case against Charles E. Wear. This is a most remarkable case. Charles E. Wear is the son of Judge Wear. In 1891 he shot and killed Charles Lail at Poplar Bluff and was indicted for murder in the first degree. The usual delays afforded by the criminal laws were resorted to. At last, after many continuances, the case was dismissed by Special Judge Malden a few months ago.

Last February the Butler county grand jury reindicted Wear, and then followed a procedure on the part of the young man's father as judge of the circuit court unprecedented in the history of Missouri criminal jurisprudence. The term of court was not adjourned until May 4, and no capias was issued for young Wear's arrest, although indicted for murder in the first degree. Under the statutes the circuit clerk cannot issue a capias on his own motion during courttime.

On April 8 Judge Wear issued an order of record, calling in Judge H. M. Riley to try the case. On the 4th Judge Riley was present to take up the case, but Judge Wear would not vacate the bench. Assistant Attorney General Morton Jourdan was also present on direction of Governor Stone to aid in the prosecution.

Judge Wear put in most of the time until 4 o'clock reading newspapers, at which time Judge Riley notified him of his presence and readiness to take up the case. Judge Wear replied that he would run his own court to suit himself and ordered the sheriff to adjourn court. Mr. Jourdan protested and scored Judge Wear severely for his unprecedented and unwarranted-action. The sheriff, however, adjourned court.

Judge Wear has appointed G. A. Standard special judge to try the case, and the attorney general decided to invoke higher authority in order that justice may not be defeated. The writ was made returnable to the court in banc May 21. Governor Stone has been made aware of the facts in the case, and it is believed he will convey the same to the legislature, with authority to institute impeachment proceedings against Judge Wear. Public sentiment, where the facts surrounding the murder are known, is in favor of punishing young Wear to the full extent of the law, as the killing is regarded as cold blooded murder.

Since the murder young Wear attempted to kill another man and badly wounded him. That justice has been trifled with, and even openly defied, seems to be apparent. -- Kansas City Times.

THE GOOD IN HYPNOTISM.

Dr. Howard Claims That It Will Becom a Powerful Factor In the World.

Dr. William Lee Howard put the benevolent and attractive side of hypnotism in a strong light in his address to the American Medical association at Baltimore a few days since.

He has experimented with it very extensively and declares that for insomnia and dipsomania there is no remedy of equal value. This is in line with the testimony of Dr. George F. Shrady of New York, who has successfully produced such complete insensibility to pain as to enable him to perform an otherwise painful feat of surgery upon an injured hip.

Dr. R. Osgood Mason of the same city has recently claimed the complete cure of an extreme case of dipsomania. Having put his patient to sleep and so gained mental control of him, the doctor gave him the suggestion that, on awaking, he would dislike alcoholic drink in all its forms. The next day the man went to a saloon as usual, but could not drink. The odor of the place filled him with nausea, and Dr. Mason vouches for the fact that he has never since been able to bear the taste of liquor.

A Tennessee doctor reports that he has employed the new power with success to release a young man from a terror of hydrophobia that would probably have otherwise proved mortal. The patient was put to sleep and told peremptorily that the dog that bit him was not mad, and that when he awoke he must dismiss his fear. He awoke, and his terror had flown.

Dr. Howard, in his Baltimore address, advocated the enactment of laws suppressing all public demonstrations of hypnotism as dangerous. He has no doubt that crime can be instigated by hypnotism. He would have its use as strictly regulated by law as the use of high explosives or poisons. He believes, moreover, that hypnotism might be properly employed as a detective agency to obtain guilty secrets from suspected criminals and quoted cases where crimes had been thus brought home to their authors.

BORGE H. THOMPSON. @ MACARDELL . CITY EDITOR 1. F. BOBINSON. A. R. NICEINSON. Business Manager

THURSDAY, JUNE 13, 1895.

The 167 young women who compose the Sodality of the Children of Mary, of St. Peter's Church, Poughkeepsie, have adopted a resolution pledging themselves to discontenance association with young men addicted to the use of intoxicants. The resolution was adopted after the Rev. James Nilan, the spiritual director of the Sodality, had spoken of the good result: achieved in Danbury, Conn., by similar action on the part of the Sodality of Rev. Father Lynch's Church. If the young women who have pledged themselves to this new crusade against rum are true to themselves and their pledges, there is no doubt of their ability to do a great deal of good. No young man wishes to be a social Pariab, and if he finds that he must choose between the saloon and the society of ladies of his acquaintance, the saloon has no chance whatever.

The Lunacy Commission has formally appealed to Gov. Morton to sign the bill transferring New York city's ineane to State care. They tell him that Mayor Strong's failure to ap prove the bill ought not to have weight with him, for legal and constitutional requirements are as nothing when compared with the relief of suffering humanity. The commissioners draw a grewsome picture of the condition of the insane in New York's overcrowded island asylums, which they declare are shockingly mismanaged. All of which is in a very different key from that in which they piped a year or two ago, when in their annual report, they sang the praises of the Ward's Island Asylum and pointed to it as a model of what the State hospitals should be. The itching of the commissioners for the power and patronage which control of the New York asviums would give them is so great that they do not hesitate to stultify themselves and eat the words they nttered but a little while ago.

THE GERRYMANDER.

Chairman Boyd, of the Board of Bupervisors, forgetting "that be who excuses accuses," attempts in the Fress an elaborate defence of the infquitous gerrymander made by the Republican Supervisors, Tues-

He says that "the new constitution made population the first requisite. and the Board took this into serious consideration." We can see the h.mself. statesman-editor chuckling as be wrote those lines and reaching over his shoulder to pat himself on the back for having elaborated such a Munchausenism.

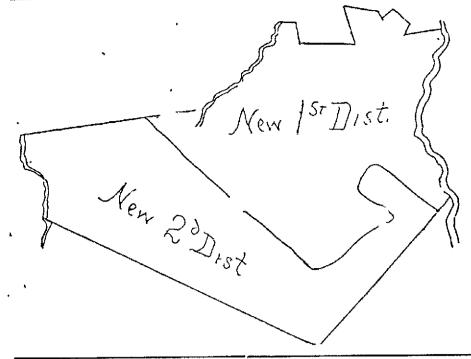

Further on he says that even if partisan considerations did enter into the division of the county the Republicans are not to be blamed for "certain it is that the Democrats, had they been in power, would have gerrymanded the county for the severest political advantage." Just what "severest political advantage" means, we don't assume to know. It's beyond our ken, but we will say that it looks well in prin* and is calculated to divert the mind of the intelligent reader from the iniquity of the gerrymander. The great trouble with the sentence quoted is that it isn't true. Demo cratic Boards of Supervisors re-districted the county several times and always on the old lines, without regard to "the severest political advantage."

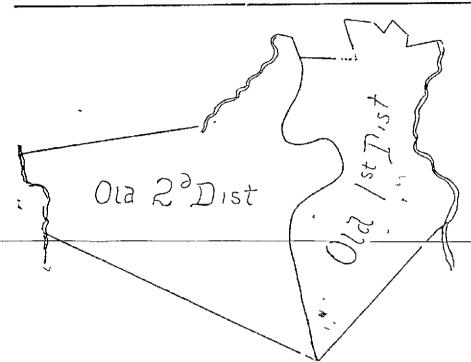

Seeing is believing and we give herewith outline maps of the county, showing the old and new districts. Look upon the new second district; see how it loops around Monroe to take in far-away Woodbury which casts more Republican votes in proportion to its population than any town in the county and you will get an idea of the meaning of contiguous territory when interpreted by blindly partisan Republican Supervisors.

We have faith enough in the people to believe that this will rebuke the perpetrators of this iniquity and that no Republican who aided and abetted it will ever attain to legislative honors. Even if, as the Press says, with a fine disregard of rhetorical proprieties, "when slumps * * come the district will go with the billows," we don't believe the billows will ever be high enough and strong enough to roll a Republican Supervisor, weighted down with this iniquity, up the river to the doors of the State Capitol.

Spring Medicine

Is a necessity because the tonic of winter sir is gone, and milder weather, increased moisture, accumulated impurities in the blood and debilitated condition of the body, open the way for that tired feeling, nervous troubles, and other ills. The skin, mucous membrane and the various organs strive in vain to relieve the impure current of life. They all welcome to assist Nature at this time when she most needs help, to purify the blood, tone and strengthen the laboring organs and build up the nerves.

I kept on taking it and I am now so that I can eat heartly and can do my work." Mrs. John W. Peachey, Alloway, N. J.

THE APPROPRIATION ELECTION.

The Several Items Which the Taxpayers are Asked to Vote Upon.

As this Republican Common Council desires only readers of Republican newspapers to be kept posted in regard to official business and has violated the spirit of the charter by designating two papers of the same political party to do the official advertising, the Argus will try to keep its readers posted. Middletown's Indebtedness Airendy Excoeds the fen fer Cent. Limit Fixed by the Constitution-If we Build New Schools Houses it Must Be for Spo

The report of the Board of Education's Committee on Increased School Accommodations brings the people of this city face to face with a very grave problem. The Academy building is unsafe and cannot be re. paired. A new Academy, suitable to the needs of the city, will cost $60,-000. Two new ward schools are needed. They will cost say $10,000 each, making the total sum needed for school building purposes $80,000.

The Board of Education proposes to issue bonds for school building purposes and had a school bonding act passed last winter. That act is not worth the paper on which it is printed. Middletown has already exceeded the limit of indebtedness fixed by the constitution.

Article VIII, Section 10, of the constitution, fixes the limit of itdebtedness of counties and cities at ten per cent. of the assessed valuation of reas estate subject to taxation and says: "No county or city, whose present indebtedness exceeds ten per centum of the assessed valuation of its real estate subject to taxation, shall be allowed to become indebted in any further amount."

It is provided in the section quoted that this ten per cent, limit shali not prevent the issue of bonds to provide for the supply of water, but the prohibition is absolute as regards all other purposes.

Middletown's bonded deht as shown by the last report of the Treasurer is $283,000. The assessed valuation of real estate is $2,678,225 Our d bt is already $16,000 in excess of the constitutional limit.

If we build more school houses, we will have to pay for them at once.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Cogswell K Gordon, on Highland avenue, was the scene of an important social event, last evening, it being the marriage of their daughter, Carolyn H., to Rev George W. Downs, of New York city. It was a blue wedding, that color predominating in the decorations, which were verý elaborate.

About 150 guests were present, but there was ample room for all, the large verandas being enclosed with curtains, carpeted and provided with

The ceremony took place at 7 o'clock, and was performed by Rev. B. H. Burch, pastor of St. Stephen's Church in New York, assisted by Rev. Dr. Wilson, pastor of St. Paul's M. E Church, of which the bride is a The bride was attired in an elegant costume of white satin Duchess, cut en train, with point de Alencon and pearl trimmings and veil. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Cora Gordon, a niece of the bride, who wore a dress of white silk with lace trimmings, and carried a bouquet of roses. Misses Maud D. uglas and Bernice

The ceremony took place in the rear parlor under a canopy of smilax and flowers, on the front of which were the letters "D. G,." in white flowers. The bridal party entered the room, as Mendelsohn's wedding march was played by Miss Eva Green, in the following order: ushers, groom and best man, flower girls, maid of honor, and the bride leaning on the arm of her father.

The ritual marriage service of the Methodist Epiccopal Church, a very impressive one, was read by Rev. Mr. Burch, and the prayer was offered by Dr. Wilson.

The bride's present to her maid of honor was a beautiful lace pin, and to the flower girls rings with pearl settinge. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon, and is a most estimable young lady, whose list of friends is only limited by the number of her acquaintances. The groom, who was, last year, the assistant pastor of the Central M. E. Church in New York city, is a member of the junior class in New York University. He is a young man of fine attainments, and gives promise of a successful career in the ministry. #### A MARITIME FREAK.

NARROW ESCAPES FROM WATER-SPOUTS IN MEXICO.

A Traveler Relates Two Experiences He Had With These Twisting Terrors-A Congregation of Them, Each of Which Was Nearly 1,000 Feet In Height.

The narrowest escape I ever had was from a congregation of waterspouts. I was making a trip to some of the small islands in the gulf of Mexico, about 50 miles from Cuba, a spot famous for its waterspouts, and in the summer months there were few days that one or more were not seen. Generally a long, attennated black cloud would appear, from which would drop a pendulous cloud. Lower it would descend, resembling the lower portion of a balloon, and when about half way to the water a corresponding figure would be seen rising to meet it. Finally the two would join, and the column, from 400 to 1,000 feet high, more or less, would move away before the wind, bending before it like a gigantic bow—a thing of terror, a frightful object of the sea.

I had been visiting an island about ten miles from our camp and was in a heavy sailboat—too heavy to manipulate by oars readily. When half way home, on the edge of the channel, the wind died, completely away, and I noticed all about us a number of strange black clouds.

Watching them closely and commenting upon them to my man, I suddenly saw the ominous dropping of a pointed index fluger not a sixteeuth of a mile away. As I mentioned it my companion pointed behind me to another, and in less than five minutes five of these dread objects dropped from the clouds about

There was not a breath of air, and there was an ominous silence. Even the ever present gulls seemed to have deserted the place. We got out the oars and endeavored to pull, but the boat was too heavy, and we were compelled to a wait developments.

The cloud tips slowly dropped, and all about us mysterious columns rose up to meet them, until in a few minutes we were surrounded by these huge pillars, so that in one direction the heavens appeared to be supported upon these watery columns. A more remarkable sight cannot be imagined, and when they began to move we gave our-selves up for lost, as two appeared to be bearing down upon us.

As good luck would have it, they seemed to bring a breeze, and we were able to ger under way, and, fortunately, escaped. The two giants came careering down upon us—a spectacle to demoralize the stout hearted. One passed not 200 feet away, rushing on with a noise like that of a steam engine. I could distinctly see the terrific twisting and whirling motion of the water, and for a large area about it there was what appeared to be a heavy rain.

The spouts began to move as soon as they were complete, and very soon assumed the bend or bow shape that characterizes them, and went sailing away. These giants were so tall that I could not venture to estimate their height. My companion said a mile high, and they certainly looked it; but they were under 1,000 feet.

My nearest approach to a watersport occurred later, and dissipated some of the theories I had concerning them. One was that a spout was broken when touched or interfered with in any way, yet I saw this water giant cross an is-

I was lying in the sands near our camp one day when a lofty spout came into view from the south. It was heading directly for us, but we felt perfectly safe, as there was a large reef and long canal key between us. On came the column, passing the reef in safety, a grand spectacle, and every one in the island was seen watching it as it moved rapidly up the lagoon, its upper portions apparently lost in the clouds. If it had | Plano Lamp3 and silk Shades continued it would have passed between the two islands, and so reached the open sea, but for some reason its course was changed, and in a few moments it struck the island at an angle. We fully expected to see the whole mass drop, but it kept plowing up the sand, and soon struck a good sized schooner that had been hauled on the beach, whirling it about end for end like a feather. Then, to our consternation, the spont headed for our island, and with a great bow or curve rushed on.

The distance from island to island was a good rifleshot, and there was not much time to debate, as the spout was now half way across. Seeing that it was veering off and would probably not reach us, I ran out on to a sea wall and watched it. It gradually drifted to the south, and in a few moments struck our shoal with a roar like that of a locomo-

As I looked up the top-seemed a great canopy of water lost in the black clouds, down from which poured great drops which soon drenched me through. The center of the great curve I could not see at all for some singular reason, while the lower end or portion, now but 100 yards away, was rushing by me, a maginficent column of water, boiling and hissing like some living thing. I hterally raced with it for the length of the wall, 600 or 800 feet, and had all I could do to keep pace with it. The water of the shoal was but a few feet deep, and I found later that it cut a deep trench in it as it went along, the coral sand and mud looking as though a dredger had been at work. How long a spout can travel over the land I do not know, but not long. The bay over which this one parsed was not over 300 feet at that place. The spout passed us, beating us in the race, and soon disappeared among the dark clouds on the horizon. As common as were these phenomena in this region, I never heard of a casualty, though from the above it will be seen that narrow escapes were not rare. - Cor. San Francisco Call.

NUT IN AT THE FINISH.

Story of a Drummer Who Had an Exciting Ride.

A prim man with a shimmering silk hat alighted from the train at one of our Maine villages and got into the botel pung on the rear seat. After the hotel proprietor had carefully tucked the man's grips beneath the seat they started. The landlord owns some good horses, and so does the rival liveryman, who just then came spanking up behind with a high headed t.ag. The landlord gave one look over his shoulder and then whipped up.

The chunks of mud commenced to whiz past as the hig horse quickened his stride, and the pung slammed into the "thank you, ma'ams," with a violence that scared the little runner on the back seat. Holding to his hat he leaned forward and lisped: "Thay, mither, I don't care to ride so fatht.''

The driver turned his head over his shoulder, and his beard streamed behind like a banner at the forepeak. "Do you know who that is behind?"

"No, thir," replied the passenger, dodg-ing a chunk of mud that came like a stone from a catapult.

"Well, that fellow is trying to run me out of the livery business in this 'ere town, and he tries to whang up by me every time I catch a passenger. I'm holding the ribbins over a hoss that ain't never been beat yit, and you can just bet your neekne that cass ain't going to crow over me yit awhile." And he gave the horse another dash, braced himself, and away the turnout tore down the village street.

All of the villagers know of the contest that is going on this spring, and so the drummer, through the haze of his blurred vision, saw the grinning storekeepers at their doors. Knots of people were out yelling encouragement to both sides; women laughed from windows.

"Now you're off, Zane!"
"Give it to him, Ike!"
"A little more whal-bone speed!"

It was a sensational advent into towntoo sensational for the drummer, who swore ineffectually into the tangle of the driver's whiskers. The pitches were deeper and more frequent.

The drummer had to cling to his hat with both hands, and when he struck the crossing at the postofice he was unprepared. The pung gave a mighty flop, and out bounced the passenger high in air, tribing on his both and striking on his back and rolling in the

The crowd shouted lustily to the hotel man, but he was too busy with his rival to notice that he had lost off his man. He mistook the yells for further encouragement, and, standing up in his pung, he commenced pounding and yelling too. At last around a bend in the street disap-peared the racers, although their should and the whick, whick of their whips could

The bystanders picked up the little ranner, some one slicked up his hat a clean as possible, and a kindly furner, with a corner of his horse blanket, wheel off the thickest of the slu-h.

But he still looked pretty draggy when he started to tringe on toward the hotel. He met the hotel man driving back looking for him.

"Waal, there." said that individual, beaming on him with bland unconsciousness, "I vum I never thought to ask you if you wanted to stop down to the stores. But you hadn't ought to got off, for you missed seeing me whale that feller out in good shape."—Lewiston Journal.

"No, there's none of that now," interrupted the old man. "That's all past. A man does not buy a wife in these days."

"I should think not!" "Certainly not. It's all changed, all changed. Now he has to be paid to take her, and her poor, old father has to wreck his bank account to provide the dowry. Yes, I admit that the new woman,

And don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. WHAT MR. KRAEMER SAYS OF "BACO-CURO."

This is to certify that 1. F. D. Kraemer, of Atlantic, Iowa, was an inveterate smoker of cigarettes for more than two years.

About eight weeks ago I bought three boxes of "Baco-Curo." I began taking it according to directions, and after taking one and one-half boxes, all the desire for cigarettes left me, and I have had no desire since.

About eight week and to be and one-half boxes, all the desire for cigarcites left me, and I have had no desire since.

I can heartily recommend "Baco-Curo" to all who are slaves to the cigarcite habit or tobace to habit in any form, and are in search of a cure. I had become so under the influence of cigarcites, I could not remember anything; could not study, unless under the influence of the drug, which is death in the end, if kept up.

Cigarcites are sapping the lives out of more boys and young men to-day, than anything that is known to the world. Boys, before it is too late get some of this remedy that killed the craving for cigarcites in me and save your young life. Restore yourself to manhood. You will feel as though you had escaped an awful doom, and you have, when cured by "Baco-Curo," for you feel like a new being. I never felt better in all my life than at this present writing. I did not know what was the matter with me, until informed by the agent. He told me what was the reason Louid not do anything unless under the influence of the death-dealing poison found in cigarattes. I did not believe him at first, until he explained the action on the system. The bought the goods and thank God and all concerned. I am a sound person to-day. Hoping the this day reach the unfortunate cigarette succer, I remain, Your respectfully.

A man from the country was riding west on a Madison street cable car the other day. Pretty soon the conductor called out, "May!" stopped the car, and a lady got off. A moment or two after he called, "Ann!" stopped the car, and two ladies gathered their bundles and stepped off. Another block or two, and he called, "Elizabeth!" and the same performance tras repeated. Then came "Ada!" and a woman and child alighted. After a few more blocks he sang out, "Paulina!" and three ladies left the car. The stranger had looked on open mouthed, but this was too much for him. The balance went on accumulating dividends until 1875, when it became a dormant account and ceased to draw interest. The amount then due Roe was $343.25. Efforts were made without success to find him. He had become very poor, was too old and feeble to go to work again, and was given a home by his sons at Rutherford, N. J.

Roe always intended to repay the $1 he thought he owed, but never did so. President Townsend of the Bowery Savings bank, in looking over the books the other day, came across Roe's account. -From what the writer has read of medieval persons they must have been an arbitrary and disagreeable lot, but when one stops to consider some of the incraveniences with which they were obliged to put up, perhaps it is not strange that their knepositions were noue of the sweet-Let. Take for instance the one small matter of making a light. Every one knows that if a a match fails to re-. pand to one's advances, if the head thesoft and one is obliged to get down and grovel for it because it is trious, no others need apply the call at this office. is damp and sputters and goes out, anat it causes feelings of impa ience to arise in the breast of the one trying to kindle it. Fancy then living when the only way of lighting a candie or a fire was by maans of a flint and steel! Was it any wonder that the medieval person made use of such an expression as 'Zounds!" or even 'Gadzooks?" As to "By my halidome "it must have been utterly inadequate at times to the expression of his thoughts. Then the question who should light the kitchen fire in the morning must indeed have been a serious one. The modern domestic with her matches and kerosene can has a much easier time than the servitor of a few centuries ago. Doubtless in the future everything will be done by electricity. The next step in the ever onward march of improvement will probably be the enabling of the mistress of a household to lie comfortably in bed in the morning.

She will touch an electric button that will warn the cook, who will the kitchen fire, grind the coffee and start the breakfast while she makes a leisurely toilet.

-Another hint that may be of benefit to electricians is contained in the case of the man who was struck by lightning lately and thrown uninjured out of bed. This is vastly superior to an alarm clock. One gets used to that in time and takes not so much beed of its gentle murmur as of that of the early matutinal fly, but if he could arrange to receive a certain number of volts, (just ithe right number might be ascertained by experiments upon people he didn't like), to turn him out of bed every morning at the right time, he might be able to retire to rest with a quiet mind, feeling that he would not wake up with a start every hour or so during the night to see what time it is, and then, when the time for rising approaches, fall so soundly asleep as not to waken until long after the appointed time.

HOSPITAL TRUSTEES IN WARWICK-
